Happy Goats Grazing: Successful Start Seminar

Thinking Outside Your Pasture!

Happy Goats Grazing is a unique business venture. It takes your goats beyond your own pasture to 'greener' pastures of opportunity elsewhere. Now your goats can clear property for friends, neighbors-even for the government, chewing down weeds on public roads and BLM land. There are as many possibilities as there are fields in Nebraska, and your creativity can help you generate an unlimited list of opportunities."

In two days we can give you what it took us five years of trial-and-error to learn. In this 'hands-on' seminar, we'll teach you:

- How we manage our herd to keep feed costs down-WAY down.
- How we use nature's own gifts of food and shelter.
- How we breed, and kid our goats, all without the overhead of permanent fencing and pens.

Day one: Lecture

Business owner and grazing expert Michelle Wendell will share what she's learned over five years as a trailblazer in a new field:

- General overview of today's goat industry.
- Economics of raising goats on alternative feed sources.
- Where those feed sources are and which ones are the best for your herd's changing needs.
- Breeding, kidding, and weaning methods.
- Rotational grazing.
- Transport and guard animals.
- Fencing.
- Health issues.

DAY TWO: Hands-On

Michelle takes you 'out on the farm as she demonstrates money-saving techniques, including:

- Fence-building basics.
  - Putting up low-cost, temporary working pens.
  - Working with a herd of her goats. Moving her goats between paddocks.
  - Observing the herd
- Veterinary applications.
